KAMPALA'S NEW LOOK

What you need to know about the 200m

Dollar Kila Fly-over Traffic jam will be history
LADIES and Gentlemen, Uganda's capital, Kampala is having a new look! We should appreciate it at least for once although the economy isn't that good on our side and my Luganda is not Lungandaring! We should applaud the government and funders for the ongoing construction of the Kampala Fly-over at Clock Tower-Queens way commonly known as 'Ku ssaawa ya Kkwin' towards Nsamba.

I know most of you have had a chance of seeing the ongoing works near the Stadium like shopping Mall whose owner is yet to be revealed. The 200 Million Dollar, beautiful scenery Road is expected to be completed by December 2022, according to Eng. Samuel Muhozo who is the Director of Roads and Bridges in Uganda National Roads Authority (UNRA). The project has also undertaken major drainage improvements to mitigate flooding around Clock Tower, Shoprite & Nsamba Mukwano road.
